Local Notes.

The "Sunny Side of Life" at Methodist church tonight.

You can buy dolls cheap at the post office Friday and Saturday.

You will find suitable Christmas presents for all at Miss Elkin's china sale.

The board of city supervisors is in session this week at the police court room.

Remember the Lecture tonight.
Doors open at 6:45. Come early if you want a good seat.

The ladies will have an exchange at their rooms, Saturday, the 23rd. All members are requested to send something.

The Rev W V Ozelvee, of Iowa, will preach at the Presbyterian church Saturday, the 16th, at 11 a m and the Sunday following. The communion services will be held at this time. 2t.

The Ladies Missionary Society of Paint Lick church, will have a candy sale at the residence of Mr Woods Walker Thursday Dec 21, beginning at one o'clock. Everybody cordially invited.

A large audience will hear Rev B M Nelson's lecture, "The Sunny Side of Life," at Methodist church this (Thursday) evening. The subject is a good one and the speaker thoroughly capable of handling it. Admission 15 and 25cts.

Condition Of Mr. Marksbury.
Mr H A B Marksbury, who has been quite ill for several weeks, is now in a very serious condition, and his recovery is very doubtful. He has been lingering in this condition all this week, and losing ground every day.

The case against Will Ward for killing Henry Patterson was called Tuesday, and the regular panel was soon exhausted in an attempt to get a jury.
A special venire was summoned and the case is now in progress. As this article is written no proof has been taken.

The U D C met with Mrs James A Royston, Dec 11. They had quite a number present. Several pieces of interesting history and poetry was read by Mesdames B F Hudson, Fannie Farra, Ed C Gaines and Martha Frisbie. They will hold their next meeting with Mrs B F Hudson, Jan 8, 1906

Davison.
The many Lancaster friends of ex-Congressman Geo M Davison extend sympathy on the death of his mother, which occurred at Stanford Friday evening. She was one of Lincoln's oldest residents and was highly respected and beloved by all who knew her.

Important Notice.
As Christmas day falls on county court day, the banks will be closed, as that is a legal holiday and paper attended to would be void. The banks will also be closed on the following Monday, New Year's Day. Remember this and attend to business on the Saturday preceding. 2t

To our patrons and the public in general. As per our announcement we will sell our stock as a whole on Dec 27th. Up until that time we will sell all classes of merchandise at a great sacrifice. You can make a great saving by laying in your supplies before the sale. The Logan Dry Goods Co.

Deserved Recognition.
His many newspaper friends are delighted at the selection of Mr Henry E Woolfolk as mayor of Danville. Sam Menefee, ex editor of the Advocate, was elected at the regular election, but business engagements elsewhere caused him to resign. Mr Woolfolk is a fine business man, and one of the best newspaper men we ever knew. The Record congratulates the hustling city upon securing his services.

Gets $400. Damages.
Mr J R Mount, who was injured some months ago in stepping from the morning passenger train, was given a verdict of four hundred dollars in the circuit court Saturday. The case was stubbornly fought by both sides, and an appeal will be taken by the railroad people. The road's local attorney, Lewis L Walker, was assisted by Mr Shelby of Lexington. The suit was brought by Attorneys Joe E Robinson and Robt Harding.

This Measure Is Loaded.
Boyle County sheep owners, says an exchange, are laying the flattering unction to their souls that the next Legislature will pass a dog tax measure. Don't flatter yourselves, gentlemen. It will not do it. The shores of legislative history are strewn with the wrecks of promising careers, which went to pieces on the rocks of a dog tax law. A cynical philosopher has said that every poor man keeps a dog and every d-d poor man keeps two. Anyhow the man who proposes to lay a tax on dogs will think, by the time he gets through with his campaign for re-election, that all the dogs in the universe are after him. Not being the owner of a dog, we have no personal feeling in the matter, but advise all legislators to steer clear of a dog law, unless they are seeking the nearest way to the political boneyard.
—Cynthiana Times.

Did Good Work.
The fight by Commonwealth's Attorney Chas Hardin against blind tigers is greatly appreciated by the people of Lancaster who believe in enforcing the laws. Mr Hardin is determined that every man coming before the court shall be punished, and permits none to escape through technicalities or other loop holes. He had many parties before the grand jury and each was closely questioned as to where whiskey was procured. Mr Hardin is not only a competent attorney but is absolutely fearless in the discharge of his duty.

Impressive Exercise.
The local Odd Fellows lodge held impressive and beautiful exercises at Christian church Sunday night, during which Eld F M Tinder made a very appropriate address. All the exercises were conducted by the members, they singing their own songs, but a large congregation of people were present.
The Lancaster lodge is in a very flourishing condition, the roster is clean and a number of our best citizens have sent in their petitions. The Old Fellows are always in good shape, and the lodges everywhere are composed of the best people of the town.

Former Lancaster Boy.
Many old friends and acquaintances will be sorry to learn of the death of Mr H Lee Tate, which occurred at his home in Mt Vernon last week. He had been in good health until a few weeks ago, when attacked by stomach trouble. Mr Tate was a son of Thos Tate, and was born and raised in Lancaster. He moved to Rockcastle several years ago and has since held several offices of honor and trust. At time of his death he was sheriff of the county. He leaves a widow and three children. The Masonic lodge conducted the funeral services. Lee Tate had a world of friends, and was a splendid man, who will be missed in his community.

Distressing Accident.
Sunday morning, while Robinson and Val, the two handsome little sons of Mr and Mrs W R Cook were playing about the family room, Val, the younger brother, climbed to a shelf in a press and knocked to the floor a large old revolver which had been there for some years. The weapon was discharged, the ball striking Robinson in the eye, completely destroying the eye-ball. Drs Kinnaird and Burnett were quickly summoned and gave the child every relief possible. It was then decided to take him to a Louisville infirm, and this was done Monday morning. A letter from that institution says the little fellow is getting along nicely, and, aside from the loss of the eye, will fully recover.

Bourne.
William Bourne, son of Mr Samuel Bourne, of this vicinity died at the home of his parents, Thursday morning, after only a few days' illness from typhoid fever, aged 31 years. Mr Bourne's death was pathetically beautiful, from the fact that it was the "utter sacrifice of self for the good of another," as the disease was contracted while he was faithfully ministering at the bedside of a fever-stricken friend. Such sacrificial service and unselfish devotion can truly be numbered among the deeds of heroism and beautifully exemplifies the Master's words, "Greater love hath no man than this that he lay down his life for his friends." Mr Bourne's thirty years of earthly existence were given to a devoted service to his parents and their immediate home circle, and a willing attendance upon the sick of his vicinity.

Tobacco Growers' Fault.
Mr J Wade Walker, one of Garrard's most popular and prominent farmers, showed The Record a circular letter in regard to the recent attempt upon a number of Growers of White Burley Tobacco to perfect an organization and receive better prices for the crop.
All the financial arrangements were completed, but many of the growers failed to sign up contracts and, when success was right in the grasp, the plan had to be abandoned for no other reason but the failure of these growers to join hands with their brother growers and thus receive better prices.
The plan had abundant backing, men were sent into every nook and corner of the burley district and the plan fully explained, but some growers sat idly by, folded their hands and caused the plan to fail. Now, Mr Burley Grower has no one to blame but himself. The proposition was so put that the grower had nothing to risk and everything to gain, as it did not interfere with or delay the regular movement of the crop. Unless all the growers united, the fight would have been useless, so it was determined, after due deliberation, to throw up the sponge. As stated above, the farmers had success in their grasp, and the failure of the plan lies entirely with the individual growers, and not the promoters.

Large Stock On Hand.
We have a large stock of first class shaves and hair cuts on hand, and will take great pleasure in supplying your wants. Try our Christmas hair-cut, nobby and up-to-date. We give you a Circuit Court.

Business in the circuit court has been moving along rapidly, the juries having assisted greatly by bringing in verdicts promptly, and there has not been a "hung" jury so far. Some civil business has been continued on account of Commonwealth cases. As we go to press, the case against Wm Ward for killing Henry Patterson is being tried.
The grand jury returned 31 indictments, all of the small fry order.
Judge Bell continues to win praise from litigants, lawyers and the general public for the able and rapid manner in which he conducts the business of the court. He is not only a fine judge of law, but his courteous manner to all concerned has made friends of everyone having business in the court. The term will close this week.

Mr Herndon Still Suffers.
Mail Clerk Leslie Herndon, who was so painfully injured in the wreck on the Southern Railway some weeks ago, is able to move around a little, but is still suffering great pain and is badly crippled. His spine is injured and he is scarcely able to walk about, while much pain is caused by the right ear drum which was punctured. He is at the home of his father, on Lexington street, and his legion of friends trust that he will soon be fully restored to health. Five Lancaster men hold important runs in the railway mail service—Messrs Geo R Harden, Tom Eason, Will ("Nep") Smith, Will Stone and Leslie Herndon. They have all escaped injury except Mr Herndon and Mr Eason, the latter having been badly mashed up on the Queen & Crescent line about a year ago.

Predicts a Drop.]
A prominent tobacco man says in the Lexington Leader: "Since the failure of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Company the trust is now master of the situation, and as soon as it gets the cream other crop prices are sure to fail. The old hue and cry over-production—will furnish a pretext for a slump in the market and the growers who hold, expecting more money, will be disappointed and have to sell at a sacrifice. In anticipation of the White Burley movement the raisers have been slow in getting their tobacco ready for market, and as a result much of the crop is still in the hands of the growers." The top prices now being paid by the Continental is about 7 1/2 cents, but those posted on the situation predict that it will drop to an average of five cents before the season closes.

Furniture For Sale.
Having decided to make our home with our sister, in Atlanta, we will sell at a bargain some of our household effects, all nearly new and having been used but little. These goods were bought only a few months ago, and we will not need them in our new home. We have a brand-new set of dining room chairs, handsome dining table, a good cook stove, kitchen table, lot of new dishes, a safe, 2 stand tables, 4 chairs, 1 rocker and a few other household articles. As we will ship our goods in a few days parties desiring these bargains should call at once.
Call at The Central Record office for particulars, and we will be glad to show the furniture.
Susie and Carrie Hatcher.

Walker.
The death of Mr Jno M Walker, which occurred last Thursday, was a great surprise and shock to the many friends and acquaintances of the family. Mr Walker had been in good health until a few days prior to his death, and was in town only a short time before being attacked by illness.
He leaves four sons and three daughters, one of his sons, Mr. Alex Walker, being one of Lancaster's most progressive business men. The deceased was born in Garrard county fifty five years ago, and spent all his life here He was married to Miss Julia Ross, of Madison, who survives him. He was a member of the Baptist church and an active worker therein. No citizen of Garrard ever stood higher in the estimation of our people, nor did the county ever have a more honorable, upright, law-abiding man within her borders. His loss will be keenly felt, and not only by his family but by the general public. Funeral services were conducted at the family home by Rev C S Ellis, the remains being interred in the Lancaster Cemetery.

Tobacco.
The Western Tobacco Growers says: Mr Jess Riddle, of Franklin county, Ky., was a visitor on the Cincinnati tobacco market last week. Mr Riddle is the largest tobacco grower in Franklin county and speaks very intelligently about conditions in the tobacco trade. Concerning the new 1905 crop Mr Riddle states that a great deal of the tobacco in his section is house burned. One grower, a neighbor of his removed from his barn the crop of 20 acres and threw it away for this cause.
He said that this man had to pay $2 a day for help to store it away originally in the barn and is inclined to believe that many landlords and tenants will realize small profits from tobacco this season. Mr Riddle stated that Owen county has a better crop of tobacco this year than for five or six seasons past. This he claims is due to the billiness of Owen county. In wet weather the hill crops are best and this year's Owen county crop is a light colored one. On the lowlands and level lands, on the contrary, the crop grown is dark and heavy.—Western Tobacco Journal.

Week of Prayer.
The Evangelical Alliance has again sent out a call to all Christian people to join in a week of prayer in the interest of God's Kingdom, January 7-14, 1906. The call was sent out in many languages, signed by 45 representatives in more than 30 different countries in all parts of the world. The week of prayer has proven a great blessing to the Lancaster people. The last two years has seen a marked growth in appreciation and attendance. Let the Christians see that this is the greatest and happiest of all.
The topics are: "Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be life or death. For to me to live is Christ and to die is gain." Phil 1:

Now that the farmers have things coming their way, with something over $6,500,000 to their credit, the next thing to do is get a shot gun and keep off the fellow with the scheme to make millions. The farmers are all right now if they will only let wildcat investments alone. Shoot the first fellow who wants you to go into anything where you will "lay down one and pick up three." This never has and never will work out.

An Indiana girl has just won a piano by husking corn, her record being 100 bushels from sun-up to sun-down.
There are many piano pounders who should be husking corn instead of grating on the nerves of unfortunate listeners, and many more who would make a greater success by running the scales on a washboard.

The hanging of a man in Minne-it is a little tough on the fellow, but such a mistake would not occur once in ten thousand times. Let the good work proceed. What we need is more hangings, in fact an overproduction of hangings would not hurt.

The ministers are trying to devise a plan to get the men to attend church services. We are afraid that the only plan would be to have catchy music and a chat on political matters, as these are about all that interest the average man on Sunday.

Representative Morrill, of Pennsylv-

PSALM C.

O ye lands now to Jehovah Make ye all a joyful noise; Gladly serve Him, and before Him Come with singing and rejoice.

Know the Lord is God, He only; He hath made us, His we are;
We the flock of His own pasture, We the people of His care.

With your thanks His gates now enter,
In His courts His praise proclaim: Unto Him O be ye thankful, And forever bless His name.

For the Lord is good; His mercy Is to everlasting sure;
And to endless generations Shall His faithfulness endure.

BLOOMLESS.

The Lesson of the Rosebush—Let It Be a Warning to Bloomless and Fruitless Lives.

"It has served me right," said the rose bush, as it lay in a heap of rubbish, where it had been thrown because of its long failure to put forth any roses. "It seems like a hard fate to one who has been as delicately nourished as I to be cast aside where I must die without hope of even another opportunity. And yet I cannot complain. For years my master has cared for me. He gave me the best of attention. He studied my nature, my character, my needs, and what he saw would be good for me he gave; and yet in all these years I gave him not one rose. I have been so full of life and blossom for his thoughtfulness and care. Several times I gave him to understand that I would reward him when I put forth the tiniest pink bud, and I remember how he looked at it and said, 'There will be roses by the garden path this year.' But I always disappointed his expectation. The bud never came to the bloom. And then I have been a disappointment to the great world that nourished me. I have sent my roots into the earth and have drawn freely from it. I have spread forth my leaves and have reveled in the luxury of sunbeams. I have held up my arms to the clouds and have not wanted of the rains from heaven. And yet I have given no expression of my gratitude for it all. I have given to the air, which has fanned me, no fragrance; to the clouds which gave me abundance to drink of the wine of heaven, no incense; to the luxuriant earth which has fed me no return, except the dead leaves of the autumn which the gardener burned; and to the gardener himself I have not given the poor satisfaction, which he craved, of a single smile. I have been both unprofitable and ungrateful. It has served me right. It is a hard fate to die without hope of another opportunity, but I cannot complain. It is the fate of those who promise and never fulfill, of those upon whom great blessings have been conferred, and have mistreated them, who have been endowed with fine talents yet have been a disappointment to God and man." And as I heard the pitiful confession, I said: "If your life has been wasted, your death-bed confession may prove a blessing; for, in the hope that it may be a warning to men who are wasting their lives, I shall publish it to the world." And when again I passed by the rose bush withered and dead, but there seemed to be about it the peace of one who has accomplished more good by his death than by his life.—United Presbyterian.

The Scriptures.

The Scriptures are not a quarry where men may dig with unsanctified hands or blast away the strata with scholarly guesses. He who assails the Word of God will grow morally weaker with whom this stone shall fall shall be ground to pieces. It is an unfortunate quarry for the iconoclast.—United Presbyterian.

Furious Fighting.

"For seven years," writes Geo W Hoffman, of Harper, Wash., "I had a bitter battle, with chronic stomach and liver trouble, but at last I won, and cured my diseases, by the use of Electric Bitters. I unhesitatingly recommend them to all, and don't intend in the future to be without them in the house. They are certainly a wonderful medicine, to have cured such a bad case as mine." Sold, under guarantee to do the same for you, by R E Mc-Roberts druggist, at 50c a bottle. Try

Gossip About People

A Brief Mention of the Comings and Goings of Those We Are Interested In.

Hon Will J Price, of Danville, was here Wednesday.

Dr Marshal Denny, of Richmond, was a visitor here Sunday.

Hon Reed S Nichols of Danville, attended court Wednesday.

Miss Mary Mae Foreman has gone to Danville to visit friends for a few days.

Mr Sam Carpenter, of Preachersville visited his cousin, Mr F O Reid first of the week.

Stanford Journal—Mrs Mildred Benzley, of Lancaster, is visiting her children here.

Mesdames Mayfield and Stuart, of Crab Orchard, have been visiting Mrs Will Gaines.

Miss Mame Ballard, of Bryantsville, has been the attractive guest of Miss Margaret Tomlinson.

A very handsome picture of Bert and William Embury appeared in Saturday's Louisville Times.

Harrodsburg Democrat—Mr C E Rankin is spending several days in Lancaster on legal business.

Mrs E H Smith and children, of Memphis, Tenn., have arrived to spend the holidays with her parents.

Mr John Carpenter and four sons, of Oklahoma, have been guests of F O Reid and family first of the week.

Mr Jno M Logan, whose headquarters are in New York, is expected home this week to spend a few days.

Miss Marguerite Kinnaird, who is in the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, is expected home this week.

Dr Chas Zimmer, now succeeding as a dentist at Zanesville, Ohio, is spending a few days with his parents in this city.

Burgin cor. Harrodsburg Democrat: Mrs Fletcher Ison, of Garrard county, spent Sunday with Mr Alexander Curd and family.

Mr Frank Pumphrey, one of the best job workmen and swiftest compositors in the state, has been helping in The Record office this week.

Judge J C Hemphill attended a meeting of the Beaver Creek Oil and Gas Co., at Hustonville, yesterday. The company declared another dividend.

Mr Ware McRoberts entertained a number of his young friends at a dance Tuesday evening. The affair was in honor of Miss Alice Maddox, of Eminence.

Mr and Mrs D D Geiger attended the marriage of Mr Irskine Russell Garland, of Huntington, W. Va., and Miss Laura Clay Bennett, of Richmond, which will take place today at high noon. Mr Garland is a nephew of Mr Geiger.

Hon Jerry Sullivan, of Richmond, was here attending to some business in the circuit court Wednesday. Mr Sullivan is one of the most popular gentlemen in Kentucky, and is beloved by a wide circle of friends.

Miss Catharine Finger, who has so gracefully presided over the trimming department of Miss Bettie Broadbush' Millinery parlor has returned to her in Louisville. Her kind and lovely disposition won many friends for her here, who regret very much to see her go.

Mr Robt Fox, of Marksburg, gave a most delightful dinner a few days ago, in honor of Hon C. C. Fox, Messrs R P McGowin, Ned Wise man and Bowen Fox, of Danville. Every substantial and delicacy of the season was served in that elegant style his mother knows so well how to prepare. Mr Fox is one of the most popular young men in the county, and very deservedly so.

Miss Bessie O Marksburg and Dr James Staughton, of Covington, were married at the home of the bride's brother in law, Louis Landram, in this city, yesterday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Rev C S Ellis, pastor of the Baptist church, performing the ceremony. The young couple were to have been married early in the fall, but the illness of her father prevented. Owing to the serious condition of Mr Marksburg, the wedding was a very quiet one, only the immediate family being present. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs H A B Marksburg, and the groom a practicing physician of Covington. They will remain at the home of her parents until a change in the condition of her father, when they will go to keeping house at his home at No 833 Scott st., Covington.

Miss Carrie Hatcher, who has been connected with The Record office for a number of years, has decided to accompany her sister, Miss Susie, to Atlanta, where they will make their home with their sister, Mrs W C Westmoreland, and they will leave Christ mas week for that city. Miss Carrie accepted a position in The Record office when quite a little girl, and we have never known a brighter student or more faithful employee. She soon mastered the complicated art of setting type, and it was not long before she could manage any department of the office. She is well up in shorthand, and also looked after our books as satisfactorily as could be done by one of many years' experience. Her cheerful disposition and happy smile have brought many a ray of sunshine to our dingy office, and she will be sadly missed by everyone from editor to devil. These young ladies enjoy the respect and love of the Lancaster people, and take with them every wish for happiness and success in their new home.

The editor of The Record is very thankful to the editors of Kentucky for their kind words regarding our recent illness and return to work, and were it not for the fear that some one may think us egotistical, would reproduce the articles our big-hearted brother editors have said. We point with pardonable pride to the following, written by two of the most lovable men the Lord ever put upon this old earth, Paul Moore and Jim Allen.

Earlington Bee:—The press of Kentucky is rejoicing heartily over the return of popular Louis Landram, of Lancaster, former president of the Kentucky Press Association, to his home and his work, after having been seriously ill and under surgical treatment in a hospital at Atlant, Ga. If friends wishes could avail Louis Landram would be made whole and live an hundred years.

Cynthiana Democrat:—Editor Louis Landram is back at his post on Lancaster Record after enforced absence of several months occasioned by a bad leg. With his hundreds of friends The Democrat joins in congratulations on his return to his work. Louis is a delightful fellow and everybody is his friend.

Richmond Climax:—Mrs D M Lackey, of Lancaster, has been the guest of Colonel and Mrs J W Caperton, at their beautiful suburban home, "Blair Park."

FARM ITEMS.

A Robertson county woman raised seventy-three well developed squashes on one vine.

In Kenton county farmers may be required to look after the roads, as it is proposed that the county be divided into sections and each one to be in charge of a resident.

James C Ellis, as agent or the tobacco trust, brought in Bourbon county 30,000 pounds of tobacco at eight cents straight, 30,000 pounds at nine cents and 20,000 pounds at 10 1/2 cts.

Among the sales reported at Paris Court were 35 yearling steers at 3 cts; a car of hogs at $4.50; 80 fat hogs at $4.75; a few meat hogs at 5 cents; 1,000 bushels of wheat below commercial grade at 69 cents; 50 fat hogs at $4.40; 2 premium Shorthorn steers, 1,500 lbs., at $4.75; 10 feeders 1,025 lbs., at $3.50; 31 steers, 1,200 lbs., at $3.65; 18 steers, 1,600 lbs. at $4.50.

N D Mayers, near Carlisle, has a volunteer tomato vine to grow near his stable that measured over 17 feet in height and bore over three hundred tomatoes. The only cultivation it was given was done by throwing fresh dirt over the roots and pruning. It grew up the side of the stable and on to the roof.

At the Woodard sale of thoroughbreds at Lexington 67 head were sold. About one third of them sold for over $100 while many sold for less than half that amount. Jas F Winn had one in the sale, a chestnut colt by Mesmerist, and it sold for $280. J Asa Bush sold a brown filly by Sorcerer, for $300 and three others at prices ranging from $50 to $70.

Winchester Democrat: S K Hodgkin weighed up and shipped to New York the following cattle: Bought of D B Hamton 24 1,475 lb., corn fed steers at 4 1/2 cts.; of S P Hodgkin, 32 wt., 1,440 lbs., at 4 1/2 cts.; of H L Stevens, 45 wt., 1,400 lbs., at 4 cts. He also bought of different parties 110 170 lbs. hogs at 4 to 4 1/4 cts. Mr. Hodgkin has shipped twenty-four car loads of cattle and hogs from Winchester in the past few weeks.

A small boy—who is President of the Juvenile Sons of Rest—has figured out how much travel is necessary to grow forty acres of corn. He says a farmer travels ninety miles in cutting the stalks, ninety miles in harrowing, ninety miles each for plow and drill, 270 miles for cultivating, 45 miles for husking, or 720 miles, not counting the trips to and from the field.

John B Kennedy, of Bourbon county sold to Simon Donnell, of Pittsburg, Pa., fifty premium Shorthorn steers, average weight 1,750 lbs., at six cents per pound. The two largest were weighed separately, and weighed 1,950 and 2,000 lbs., respectively. They were shown at the Pittsburg fat cat show and will be shipped to England.

Dr John E Gray had a hog slaughtered recently that was one of the fattest ever killed in the county. It was a red Duroc Jersey and at fourteen months old weighed 600 pounds. For ninety days before it was killed it was perfectly blind, being so fat that the flesh covered up its eyes. The hog was fed by George Lax, who has a national reputation as a feeder.

From the hog was obtained 123 pounds of lard, 175 pounds of sausage, and the two hams weighed forty pounds each—Bowling Green News.

Mr Evan Suter, one of our most up-to-date farmers, has just improved one of the finest herds of angora goats ever seen in the county. He procured them in Texas, and for one he paid $400. This animal was sired by Dick, the South African goat, that cost $1,050 Suter's herd has reached the 300 mark, and ere long he will have one of the best herds in the State. This is the kind of enterprise needed among our farmers.—Elizabethtown News.

An alfalfa pasture is probably the most sensible and cheapest preventive of hog cholera yet discovered, for it furnishes the pigs just what they need to balance up their rations all through the season. There is nothing better worth while trying than to see if it is not possible to secure a small field of alfalfa on every farm where the raising of hogs is made a business. The importance of this is fact being realized by the farmers in several States, and the crop when a proper soil is selected, and the crop put in as it should be, a large measure of success is being met with.

RELIGIOUS MATTERS

DO I A BATTLE FIGHT?

If Thou, my Christ, to-day Shouldst speak to me and say: What battles hast thou fought for Me? Show me thy scars: I fain would see Love's depth of victory.

If Thou shouldst speak, my Christ; My Leader and my King; And bid me lay my wounds in sight, The scars borne just for Thee in fight, What love-scars could I bring?

Do I a battle fight; Do I a stainless shield Bear where I tread, in sacred trust Trampling sin's every birth to dust, Along the battlefield?

—George Klingbe, in Christian Work.

MAN'S OWN WAY.

It Has Led Away from God. But Christ's Sacrifice Brings Us Back Again.

All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned, every one, to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. Isaiah 53:6.

The Bible shows that God loved and still loves men. The natural condition of men is sad and awful.

Gone astray: Gone away from God, our rightful owner. Wanderers in paths of error! We are wrong! Heedless, thoughtless, giddy, ourselves wandering. Out of the way for the sake of being out of the way. Nothing is made by it. Inclined to backslide from God, and altogether unable of ourselves to return to Him again.

Turned to his own way! What a comment on man's independence and free thinking and free agency! Man's "own way" is the way in which man pleases to go, and it is going astray; it is setting up for ourselves to be our own masters, to do what we will, and have what we will.

God has a plan of procedure to save us from this fatal course. He laid on Christ "the iniquity of us all" and he carries the weight of those who accept Him. He has become Saviour, Redeemer of guilty men—the propitiation for sin. God chose Him. Laying the iniquity on Him is God's way of salvation, and there is no other. Our sins are made to meet upon Him.

O spotless Lamb of God, So holy, good and pure, O Thee our guilt is "laid!" In Thee we are secure!

Teach us to cling to Thee, And never "go astray!" O keep us, guard us all Till life shall pass away.

Then when on earthly scenes We close our dying eyes, Give us, with Thee, a "place!" — A "mansion" in the skies.

THE WISH OF THE HEART.

Such Is the Truly Uttered Prayer—Story of the Shepherd Boy and His Prayer.

A story is told of a little shepherd boy who was obliged to keep watch over the sheep, and so could not go to church. But in his heart there grew up a longing to pray to God, as they were doing in church. He had, however, never been taught any prayer, and so, kneeling down, he began with closed eyes and folded hands saying the alphabet, "A, B, C, D," and so on to the end.

"What are you doing, my little man?" asked a gentleman passing by. "Please, sir, I was praying," replied the boy.

"But why are you saying your letters?" "Why," said the little fellow, "I did not know any prayer, only I felt I wanted God to take care of me and help me to take care of my sheep. So I thought if I said all I knew he would put it together and spell all I wanted."

"Bless your heart, my little man! He will. When the heart speaks right, the lips can't say wrong," said the gentleman.—The Christian.

SENTENCE SERMONS.

Attempt something; be something. Unattempted means unaccomplished. Evil must be conquered, not merely defeated.

Many a soul has been dimmed by the shadow of a dime. God may forgive, but He does not always take away the power of memory.

To an active nature idleness is intolerable, but rest is pleasant to a man given to industry.

He who would walk in his garden in the cool of the day must first have his garden to walk in.

The ark of bulrushes was for an individual; the ark of gopher wood was for a family; but the ark of the covenant is for all.

Works without faith are like garlands of flowers on a statue—they may add to its beauty but they do not change its character.

A man of God is one who does the will of God, who lives on the high level of his profession, who prays and keeps the receiver to his ear waiting for the answer.

Many a life is transformed under the power of religion as the windows of a dwelling are made to glow under the light of the setting sun. They are luminous only as the light from above falls upon them.—United Presbyterian.

Two Debts.

By diligence and economy a man may get all his debts paid save two. But, let him strive as he may, he will still owe God more love and the world more service than he can ever discharge.

To Hunters.

If you would know of a country which abounds in turkeys, duck, quail, squirrels and other small game, with many a good chance at deer, get copy of the new booklet, "Feathers and Fins on the Frisco." It tells about hunting and fishing in the Ozarks and in the St. Francis Valley. Sent free on request by A. Hilton, General Passenger Agent, Frisco System, St. Louis, Mo.
